

NSTF-South32 Awards

Book your seats and tables now!

NSTF-South32 Awards, in partnership with the Department of Science, Technology and Innovation (DSTI)

The finalists are booked, the partners and sponsors ready, and the 'who's who' of science, engineering, technology (SET) and innovation are waiting in anticipation to hear first-hand who this year's winners are!

The prestigious and highly acclaimed NSTF-South32 Awards, known as the 'Science Oscars' of South Africa (SA), will be broadcast live on Thursday 16 July 2026 from Cape Town and Johannesburg simultaneously. Awarding excellence in SET and innovation in SA is the focus at the event of the year, bringing together leaders from academia, government, industry and the broader SET community, rooting for their champions.

This is your chance to join in the excitement by booking a table or seats at the gala dinner in dual cities to:

- Celebrate and support this year's exceptional finalists and winners
- Demonstrate your organisation's commitment to advancing SET and innovation in SA
- Increase your organisation's visibility by being part of one of the country's premier science and innovation events
- Connect with influential decision-makers, researchers, innovators and industry leaders through valuable networking opportunities

Book your place now!

Whether you are attending as an organisation, a research institution or an individual, your presence contributes to recognising excellence and strengthening the SET and innovation community.
